Class of 1960 Makes Large Donation

The Class of 1960 recently donated over $1,600 to the Loudonville-Perrysville School Foundation. Individual class members have already donated over $1,000 of this total, and the remaining $600 will soon be received from the Class of 1960's treasury.

Class member Steve Kick said the class discussed a donation to the L-P School Foundation during their recent 50th reunion celebration, held at The Cabin restaurant.

"We encouraged class members to support the Foundation with their own individual donations," Steve said, "and we also wanted to make a donation on behalf of the entire Class of 1960."

According to Steve, the class will be donating the remaining funds in their class account, which is a little over $600.

The donations from the Class of 1960 and its members follow on the heels of donations from members of the classes of 1958 and 1959. A plaque has recorded these 50th reunion gifts, and it will be kept at the Superintendent's office.

In an effort to generate even more donations, the Class of 1960 will be sending information about their donations to classmates who did not attend the reunion.

For all of their efforts and generous support, the Trustees of the L-P School Foundation send their most sincere thanks to the Class of 1960.

Review of 2010 Activities

Class of 2010 members prepare to sell tickets for their "Basketball Benefit" which raised over $4,100 for the L-P School Foundation.

The L-P School Foundation (LPSF) was involved in three major activities and events during 2010 – coordinating the annual Senior Project, reaching out to alumni, and making a grant to the L-P Schools.

The first major activity undertaken by the L-P School Foundation was the Class of 2010 Senior Project. Initially organized by the Class of 2000, this was the 11th consecutive year of holding a Senior Project.

The Class of 2010 project was a basketball benefit, held at the LHS gymnasium, and attended by an estimated 350-400 fans. That evening $2,252 was raised for the L-P School Foundation, and three very large boxes of food were collected for the Helping Hand food pantry. Additional monetary donations received since then have increased the total amount raised by the Class of 2010 to $4,102.

The basketball benefit consisted of four games, each lasting 20 minutes. In the first game, the alumni team captained by Charlie Hansen topped Brian Hinkle's alumni team in a 33-32 nail-biter.

In the second game, the women's staff, wearing yellow "Old School" shirts, defeated the LHS senior girls by a score of 41-29. The third game featured almost as much wrestling as basketball, with the men's staff facing off against the LHS wrestlers. While the men's staff triumphed, the final score could not be determined, as the clock operator was bribed to pad the wrestling team's score.

The final game featured the first game winners, Charlie Hansen's alumni team, against the LHS senior boys. In a hard fought game, featuring slam dunks and three-point shooting, the alumni prevailed by a score of 36-31.

Between the second and third games, the LHS Dance Team performed a routine. Before the second and final games, spectators had the opportunity to showcase their own 3-point shooting skills by paying $1 to attempt a 3-point shot, and collecting $2 if the shot was made.

The final event of the evening was the Half Court Shot competition. Over the course of the evening, five tickets were drawn, and those five people each had one opportunity to shoot from half court. Those making their shot would share a Grand Prize of $1,000. Unfortunately, none of the shooters were successful. The five shooters were Taylor Harris, Mason Johnson, Cory Fritz, Becky Orchard, and Ty Trumpower.

Erin Lingenfelter and Mack Taylor served as emcees for the evening's events.

The second major activity undertaken by LPSF in 2010 was a campaign to contact L-P alumni and other school supporters. Over 2,100 letters were sent to alumni and supporters in 45 states. Donations were received from 263 supporters in 23 states, including 115 donations from first-time supporters of the L-P School Foundation. A total of $20,160 was raised through these efforts, and LPSF sends its sincere thanks to all of those who supported this campaign. If you would like to

The third major event of 2010 was LPSF's grant of $2,000 to the L-P Schools. Coupled with a grant of $2,208 from the L-P School District Endowment Fund held at the Ashland County Community Foundation, these funds allowed the school to purchase a whiteboard for the C. E. Budd building. The Foundation's intent is to provide one grant each year to the L-P Schools, and that grant will be approximately 5% of our fund balance. That will allow LPSF to grow our fund balance, and thus provide increasing support to our schools each year in the future.

Our plans for 2011

Cooper Charlton, President of the Class of 2011, recently sat down with the L-P School Foundation to discuss his thoughts about the 2011 Senior Project, which will be held this coming spring.

LPSF: Have you thought about possible activities for the Class of yet, but it would be nice to break the record.

LPSF: As a part of the Senior Project, we always want the graduating class to “do good deeds” in the community. Have you thought about what “good deeds” your class could do?

Charlton: We want to hold a food drive for the Helping Hand food pantry, with the homerooms competing against each other to see who can bring in the most food.

2011 Senior Project?

Charlton: Last year’s basketball benefit went real well, so we may try that again. Several years ago there was cow patty bingo, and we might add that, too.

LPSF: The Class of 2008 has the record for raising the most money, $7,154. Has your class set a goal for how much money you would like to raise?

Charlton: We haven’t set a goal

LPSF: Finally, why is a Senior Project important to you and the Class of 2011?

Charlton: We want to do something good and help the community.

Cooper Charlton is the son of Tom and Jill Charlton of downtown Jelloway. Cooper’s older sisters both participated in Senior Projects, Kristie in 2004 and Karie in 2007.

The Loudonville-Perrysville School Foundation, Inc. (LPSF) is currently governed by a five-member Board of Trustees. The 2010 Trustees are: Mike Bandy (President), Jerry Dudte (Vice President), Sue Burwell (Secretary/Treasurer), Tami Reynolds, and Zach Davis. The Foundation meets once a quarter, in January, April, July, and October. If you have any questions about LPSF, or if you would like to attend one of our meetings, please contact any of the Trustees, or visit our website, www.lpschoolfoundation.org.

Foundation To Add Two Trustees in 2011

Jane Walters and Caleb Brecheisen have agreed to become Trustees of the Loudonville-Perrysville School Foundation. They will be sworn in at the Foundation's next quarterly meeting, to be held in January of 2011. This will bring the Foundation's total number of Trustees to seven. The major focus for both Jane and Caleb will be assisting with the annual Senior Project.

Jane Walters received an Associate's Degree in Business from North Central State College, and now works at Buzzard's Family Shoes in Loudonville. Jane has two children, Mitchell and Jillian, enrolled in the L-P School District.

Jane has been active for many years in the L-P Schools, serving over five years with Academic Boosters, including a term as President. Asked why she wanted to serve as a Trustee of LPSF, Jane commented, "I've seen the good work done by this group for a number of years, and I want to see the organization continue to thrive and expand. I look forward to seeing my two kids, now a junior and an eighth grader, participate in the annual Senior Project."

Caleb Brecheisen is a graduate of Hocking College and works as a park officer, serving the Mohican State Park, Malabar Farm State Park, and Findley State Park. His wife, Jennifer, is a first grade teacher in the Granville Schools.

Caleb has now come full circle, as his Class of 2000 was the first class to organize a Senior Project. Asked why he wanted to serve as a Trustee of LPSF, Caleb commented, "When my class started these efforts ten years ago, I didn't think about becoming a Trustee of the L-P School Foundation. But now I have a chance to work with the high school seniors on these projects, and I think I can relate to them, and explain the importance of their efforts to help our schools and the community in general."
